Subject: Request for Lecture Materials – Missed Class on 24 September 2026

Dear DR . Atisha RAI,

I hope this email finds you well. I am writing to inform you that I was unable to attend the lecture held on 24 September 2026 due to a sudden illness. I have been under medical care and am now recovering.

I would be grateful if you could share a copy of the lecture notes or slides from that session, along with any important announcements, updates, or deadlines that were discussed in class. Having access to these materials will help me catch up on the content I missed and stay aligned with the rest of the course.

I understand that sharing materials may take some of your time, and I sincerely appreciate any assistance you can provide. Please let me know if there is a preferred platform or folder where these resources are usually posted, or if I should collect them from a classmate after obtaining your permission.

Thank you very much for your understanding and support. I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely,

Rishitha Gaddam
